

DOING MORE WITH LESS

The workshop will present a series of 'counterpoints' to challenge the accepted thinking across a range of workplace issues from leadership, to staff training and even how we recruit and employ staff. The aim of this workshop will be to explore a range of alternate paradigms and in the process, polish our skills in innovation and creativity.

Content

- The role of manager as a trainer.
- Organic systems vs formal structures.
- Getting the most out of middle management.
- Understanding the value of stability.
- Doing less to achieve more.

Outcomes

- Explore different structures to enhance performance.
- Challenge accepted thinking to see work and associated methods differently.
- Recognise the value of targeted training to enhance performance.

Who Should Attend

Workers and managers at all levels who are being asked to do more with less but a running out of options to do so.

Benefits to You and Your Organisation

Those attending the workshop will walk away with a clearer understanding of their workplace and how to harness savings and productivity opportunities. If you apply the techniques covered you and your agency will be able to do more with less... perhaps even do less for more.
